profitable. Agriculture is making rapid strides, and favoured with cheap lands and a beneficent climate, it brings forth what would charm even the most fastidious American farmer. Were the Argentine Republic as well known to the natives of Northern Europe as is North America, we would soon see a decided turn in the current of emigration towards its shores. Indeed, it is almost with feelings of regret that we hear of so many good men going to waste their energies fighting with the elements on the inhospitable plains of Manitoba, or the moist climate and heavily timbered lands of Oregon. As yet most of our agriculturists are emigrants with little or no capital, so there is a great field for skilled agriculturists of means. The sugar industries of the northern provinces are also rapidly developing. Opportunities exist there just now such as can rarely be met with.

The following industries I have investigated, and they all show most favourable prospects—some of them are carried on at present with very good results. Rice cleaning, paper making, wine growing, the manufacture of vegetable oils, animal oil, glue, citric acid and various drugs, brewing, distilling, soap and candle making, tanning, flax-dressing, rope and twine spinning, wool weaving, tobacco curing, dairy farming, flour milling, and a variety of others. There are also an immense variety of products, such as paper stock, vegetable fibres, cotton &c., which might successfully be taken up. In short, we may say we have here an immense field for enterprise where nothing has been done.

Before concluding let me again call the attention of our British manufacturers to the fact that they are neglecting the trade of a country which will be ere long one of the best markets in the world. In the warehouses of Buenos Ayres are to be seen the manufactures of every country in Europe, and also of North America, and it would perhaps surprise the untravelled Briton to see what formidable rivalry he is meeting from foreigners.

General mechanical engineering is very progressive just now, yet I do not know of an engineer's shop in the Argentine Republic in the hands of Englishmen. Much of the class of work we are accustomed to consider as peculiarly English, machinery, dry goods, hardware, rails, &c., is coming from the Continent; and the great bulk of Argentine products have left the English for continental markets.

In civil engineering there is much in prospect at present. Besides the great port and city improvement works now about to be completed, and the Government railway to Bolivia and the Andes, now going rapidly ahead, there are numerous projects for light country railways, gas and waterworks. Several of these have subsidies and guarantees.

John Samson, O. E.

YOUNG AMERICAN EAGLE.

TROTTER STALLION SHIPPED TO SOUTH AMERICA.

In our issue of Feb. 5, 1881, there appeared a picture of the finely-bred trotting stallion Mambrino Lapping by Brigand, son of Mambrino Chief dam Jessie, by George Monmouth Patchen, which horse had been purchased by Wm. H. T. Hughes, of the firm of James E. Ward & Co., for Mr. Vicente L. Casares, of Buenos Ayres, South America. At the time we commented upon this step for improving the trotting stock of our neighbouring continent, and were able to endorse Mambrino Lapping as an animal whose excellent pedigree entitled him to be selected to found a trotting family in a new locality. Most unfortunately, however, for that venture, the horse, which was shipped on the brig Harry Smith, encountered a very severe passage, and died of exhaustion when only twelve days out. This loss was rather discouraging to Mr. Casares, a severe blow at the very inception of his enterprise, but shortly after the news reached him he commissioned Mr. Hughes to purchase another stallion, and this time the choice fell on Young American Eagle, whose picture we published last week. He was shipped Saturday, July 16, by the National Line to Liverpool, whence he will be reshipped to Buenos Ayres. The journey thither will occupy about two months, but the roundabout way is the safest in this case, and we trust that Mr. Casares will not again be disappointed. Young American Eagle is a handsome bay stallion, with black points, foaled in the fall of 1874, standing 15.3 hands, and weighing about 1,550 lbs. He was sired by Giltie's English American Eagle, son of American Eagle, a horse bred on Long Island, foaled in 1849, by Cassius M. Clark, dam by Bolton Bellipse. This stallion it will be seen, was exceptionally well bred by the best son of Henry Clay, and with rich thoroughbred strains on his dam's side. The dam of Giltie's English American Eagle was a trotting mare whose breeding we have ascertained. The dam of young American Eagle was sired by a Virginia running horse known as Sir

Henry, but owned later in Cortland County, N. Y. There are some points, it will be noticed, in the pedigree of Young American Eagle upon which some light would be desirable, and we think it probable that these matters will be cleared up in the course of time, as the horse shows a great deal of breeding and it is very likely that the unknown lines in his family tree will prove to be as good as those that are established. He is destined to occupy a prominent position as the representative American trotting stallion in South America, and researchers will be worth while in his case. There were shipped in company with Young American Eagle two broodmares, first a bay, named Belle, foaled May 24, 1876, sired by A. O. Pike's Lexington Chief, son of Kentucky Clay, by Strader's Cassius M. Clay Jr. The dam of Kentucky Clay was the dam of Lady Thorne, by Gano; the dam of Lexington Chief was Lady Warfield, by Mambrino Chief. The dam of Belle is a mare stated by the late Dr. Blackburn to have been a thoroughbred, but a speedy trotter. The other broodmare is also a bay, named Mam, foaled in May, 1876, by Black Plying Cloud (sire of Badger Girl, 2:21), son of Vermont Black Hawk; dam of Mam, a Morgan mare of great speed. The broodmares in South America are small, as a rule, and in selecting mares to send there those not under sixteen hands are preferred, as the aim is to raise good-sized carriage horses. Mr. Casares is a gentleman of experience and intelligence in breeding matters, and with a very clear idea of what he wants. He has abundant means, and has entered upon the project of improving the trotting stock of his country with zeal and in earnest. His first steps have been wise, though unfortunate so far. He would not use good judgment and look elsewhere than the United States for a stallion to meet all his requirements, and having lost one, he necessarily comes here again—Spirit of the Times

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Sunday was a woful day for this time of year—cold, wet, windy and wretched. The weather was bad enough during the day, but ten times worse at night, when down came the most terrific deluge we have had this winter of wet seasons, the result being a partial inundation in the Boca, and the catarract was so tremendous that for a short time the water was too much for the pumps, and the flood remained there who were in the streets of the old time, before the City Improvement Works were thought of. People are very nervous as to the wheat crop after all this rain. We give the text of the 'Treaty of Buenos Aires' in another column. It is far more a 'Peace with Honour' compact for South America than the famous Treaty of Berlin was for Europe, Great Britain excepted. The Treaty signed on Saturday last ensures peace and good will for ever between the greatest republics of this continent, whereas the famous Berlin arrangement merely procured the Powers of the Old Continent breathing time for the general melee for which they are all arming so fast, and which is bound to come off before this century expires.

The news by the Elbe will be found in our Supplement. There seems to be a kind of deal-sold 'servative' reaction going on in England; at least that party is recovering its spirits. There is every probability of another Commercial Treaty between France and England, and that John Bull will consent to endanger his stomach by still consuming Madame Li Franco's 'sour claret,' if she will kindly continue to deal with him for those 'dirty coats' at which 'she turns up her pretty nose when in a passion. Father Sheehy has been released, and the agitation in Ireland continues.

In spite of a tremendous deluge of rain, which prevented people from going to Church, the seventh Chascomus Cattle Fair was opened on Sunday (no Sunday excepted) but late Sunday 'opening' in that quarter) and the attendance was good. Our colleague of the Libre del Sud, Mr. Aristiguié, made a grand speech. The rain threw a damper on the business done, which was not much.

The Archbishop's procession to the Socorro Church came off on Sunday morning in spite of the inclement weather. The crowd was enormous and hundreds of the leading families of the city were in the procession, while the humble candles could be counted in thousands. Clouds of dust swept through the streets, but it had no effect on the pilgrims who sang the Rosary and Litanies on the way to the Socorro Church and back. The sight was a very imposing one, and we are most happy to say that the greatest order prevailed, and the interest which the procession created in the general public was shown in a respectful manner, a fact highly creditable to the cosmopolitan population of the city.

Under the heading 'Victoria Regina' to Lucretia Garfield, a Californian paper thus refers to Her Majesty's first direct telegram of sympathy to poor Mrs. Garfield—'Queen Victoria of England has cabled to Mrs. Garfield a personal and very womanly inquiry as to the President's health. It is not derogatory to the dignity of our republic to recognize in this fragment of royal courtesy a departure from ordinary rules of court etiquette—as such matters are understood in Europe—which does as much honour to ourselves as it does to the woman who sent it. It must be remembered that the Queen of Great Britain, by the grace of God, Defender of the Faith, &c., is so hedged about by forms and ceremonies that it is out of order for her to write to any but her royal equals in the first person singular. Victoria's message to Lucretia Garfield is therefore doubly touching. It is the word of a bereaved woman to a woman who is in danger of being bereaved and as such all Americans appreciate it.'

We strongly recommend to our lady readers the fashionable quadrille of the day, 'La Porteno,' for piano, dedicated to 'el bello sexo Porteno,' by the gifted composers Messrs A. Costante and Juan B. Roerich. The first measure is charming, a genuine 'bella Porteno,' and the music is in every way worthy of her. The charming quadrille can be had at the music shops of Messrs Rodriguez, Calle Florida, Box 295 Calle Peru, and Carru, Calle Bolivar. The rain is playing old Harry everywhere. The accounts from the Uruguay are terrible. Never, or hardly ever, has the Uruguay been so high. Concordia, Gualeguaychu and Uruguay have suffered terribly, the moles having been swept completely away and other serious damage done. Every arroyo that flows into the Uruguay has overflowed its banks, an unprecedented occurrence.

The Gran company will leave at the end of the week, so there is no time to be lost for those who want to see it. To-night that really splendid piece 'The Minkotons in the Convent' will be given. To-morrow for the first and last time, La Traviata, for the benefit of the tenor M. Magee, and Thursday, the farewell, Carmen. We are sorry to hear that the company has lost more money, while it made two or three decent fortunes in Rio and Montevideo. Is the South American Athens losing its hitherto French tastes?

About 4000 patacons worth of stamped paper was stolen from the National Oficina de Sellos in Calle Maipon on Sunday night. The burglars tried to force open the safe but could not, and found the stamps they took in a wooden press, which they broke open. There are no other signs of thievery. The two porters are under arrest, although not thought to be the guilty parties.

The earthworks on the Andine Railway have been pushed ahead with such vigour that they have reached San Luis. The rails, however, cannot be laid down, as the sleeper contractors are fast asleep and far behind in their contracts. This is really too bad.

Mr. Rosario Loader, the prominent Rosario dentist, is coming down here to settle, as the Rosarios' teeth are so good that it is one in a hundred of them who knows what a toothache is. In Buenos Aires, on the contrary, people with shaky teeth, or none at all, are very numerous.

The principal news we find in the Tucuman papers is that it has been running Municipal 'multas' there for a long time. Count Amielot de Chaillos, French Minister, had arrived there. Mr. Tapia O. B. chief of the railway extension engineers, got a severe cropper from his horse last week and broke one of his legs.

The storm was so severe at Montevideo on Sunday that the Admiral Brooke had her steam up all night and the officers could not go ashore yesterday to the banquet, which stands for this evening.

Colonel Latorre's friends who wish to call on him will find him at Watson's Hotel, Belgrano, where he is sojourning during his stay here.

We salute H. E. Baron Cova, the new Italian Minister, and feel much pleasure in congratulating him on the rising prosperity of his countrymen in the River Plate. Cova is, strictly speaking, an Irish name, and we believe H. E. is a relation of the Cove of Cork.

Yesterday was a golden day in town. Our streets were blocked by carts laden with sovereigns, £130,000 from the R.M.S. Elbe, and £18,000 from the Tycho Brabe, for the Italian Bank. It is many years since we have had such a flood tide of gold in this country.

A leading English firm showed us yesterday three letters bearing the postmark of Richmond, Virginia, which only reached their hands yesterday morning, at the same time as a letter from N. York dated 10th September. It requires little thought to hit on the weak place in the chain between this and Richmond. Its name is Rio de Janeiro, the 'belle noire' of E. Plate merchant who has business with the United States. Mails lie there for weeks, either through carelessness or accident, and there seems to be no prospect of relief. Things have been far worse since the last time of when 60,000 pairs were sold at 25.45, and then rose to 25.40. For the end of the month were sold 25.40, and on long dates all 25.40. Trial sales, 125,012 pairs. Oculist trial sales were weaker than market on the board, since, although the cash price was 25.40, the 125,000 was sold at the ring at 25.35. They say on Change that some heavy orders have gone into Bank shares and are selling for shares at 25.40 of the month, and it looks very like it. Only 25,000 sold for end of month at 25.40. National Bank Shares opened at 127 cash, and closed at 127, rising to 127, and then closing at 127. For Nov. they are making a great market, 3,750 shares sold, opening at 127 and closing at 126. The 25th's result were delivered on Sunday, but the passengers and specie owing to the great storm only came ashore to-day. The visit yesterday had to put back in the sale. Messrs Scharfman & Butler chartered today the following—Austrian barque Roma to land in Buenos for Paimon and Corrientes at 25.40. The last big ship Maria to land in port at 27.45 and 6 1/2 for same destination. One of our leading merchants has received a telegram from London dated Friday night: 'Regarding the Bank note, we suppose there is no change in the rate so far. The Magellan is posted to leave Montevideo on 25th for Rio de Janeiro, the 1st of the month, and it will be a quick mail. On Saturday night there was an unusually great reception at General House, the grand salons were thrown up, and the President had the people kept waiting. The President had numerous English visitors, amongst others Mr. Smithers, the founder of the English Bank in the Plate. All congratulated General Roca on the happy termination of his Chilean quest. Messrs Scharfman & Butler were also advanced in London more than any other stock. The Bank note was weak, the price of the share is 210; these shares six months ago might have been bought at 25, and a month ago they were selling under 25. The ironed Brown is expected up to-morrow, and will be a quick mail. The Elbe's Mails.

London, Sept. 24th.
Some doubt is expressed in Paris about the ultimate success of the deliberations of the Anglo-French Commissioners. They sit daily, but the attitude of the French delegates is said to be in no way encouraging. The points on which they show least inclination to give way are the woolen and cotton tariffs. But there is no certainty about this as yet. Owing to the impossibility of agreeing in regard to the wine duties the commercial negotiations with Italy have been suspended.

It is estimated that 80,000 people viewed the remains of President Garfield yesterday; but, as signs of decomposition have set in, the lid of the casket in which the remains were contained has been closed. This was done in accordance with the wish of Mrs. Garfield. President Arthur has decided not to accompany the body to Cleveland, but to remain in Washington for the present. The Sultan of Turkey has sent a message of condolence to Mrs. Garfield. The new President's brief inaugural address has been well received by the American Press.

A touching despatch has been received by Lord Granville from Mr. Blaine in reply to his message of condolence on the death of General Garfield. In the name of the late President's family and of the American nation, Mr. Blaine thanks his lordship, and through you the generous people of the British Empire, for tender and unflinching manifestations of sympathy.

A proclamation has been issued by President Arthur, summoning a special extra session of the United States Senate for the 10th of October.

M. de Novikoff has been explaining to the Porte that there is no demand that the Russian war indemnity should be included in the arrangement with the bondholders; but he thinks the Bulgarian tribute should not be ceded to them, so that it may be available for use in any future arrangement as to the indemnity. That at least seems to be inferred from the remarks of the Russian Ambassador.

The Transvaal Volksraad has been formally opened at Pretoria, and has commenced the discussion of the Convention. In the inaugural speech it was stated that the Convention would doubtless not satisfy the Volksraad, and a confident belief is expressed that the English Government would be compelled to propose modifications.

It is semi-officially admitted in Berlin that the extradition of political criminals was discussed at the interview between the two Emperors and their Chancellors at Danzig. It is denied, however, that there was any thought of reprisals against those Powers refusing to accept the extradition policy.

Prince Frederick of the Netherlands was buried yesterday in the Royal vaults of the Church at Delft. The ceremony was an imposing one, and a wreath, sent by Queen Victoria, was placed on the tomb.

Dr. Fitzgerald, Bishop of Ross, has just returned to his diocese from visiting Michael Davitt in Portland Prison. Davitt, it is stated, was in excellent health and spirits, but the Bishop felt a shock on seeing such a man in the convict garb. He is not permitted to see newspapers, but books are supplied to him, and he is busy mastering four or five European languages, including Irish.

One of the principals in the recent prize fight at Hendon has been sentenced at the Middlesex Sessions to two months' imprisonment, one of the seconds to the same term, and another to six weeks. The others charged—three in number—were fined. The Assistant Judge was emphatic in denouncing the fight as a criminal offence of a very obnoxious kind.

At the meeting of cotton-spinners in Manchester yesterday a general feeling was expressed in favour of a further stoppage of the mills for another week. It was directed that a circular be issued to the employers in Lancashire and Cheshire, and the answers are encouraging it is very probable another stoppage will be decided upon. A similar step is in contemplation in Oldham.

A medical student—an ex-convict one, apparently—has been fined 40s or a month's imprisonment at Oxford for having jumped on the stage of the theatre there, seized a parrot, and, waving it over his head, saluted the audience with 'Here we are.' Naturally, the actors did not relish this intrusion on their special domain, but one who tried to eject the boisterous student was rather roughly handled for his pains.

An unusual but not altogether unknown witness was introduced in the Marlborough street Police court yesterday, in the shape of a pug dog, claimed by two masters. Thomas Duly, of Greek street, Soho, was accused of stealing it, and the answer he gave was that he resented that he bought it. 'Punch,' however, when brought in, quickly proved him wrong by answering to the call of the prosecutor, and fondling him in a most affectionate way. 'Nothing being known against Duly,' he was discharged.

At the Stock Exchange yesterday the tone was rather favourable. Some of the Home railways, including Sheffield and North British, improved, but Tisbury fell 3. American lines were firm, and Canadian steady. As regards foreign securities, Egyptian, Italian, and Turkish advanced, while Spanish declined. Consols scarcely varied. About £50,000 in gold was withdrawn from the Bank for export.

IRELAND.

Dublin, September 21.
'Boyotting' appears to be extending more widely and becoming more cruel in its application. In some of the country towns it means the ruin of the small trader, and the farmers suffer severely from it. At Ballinglass, and also in other places, sectarian animosity has added greater bitterness to the practice. It is stated that the Protestant shopkeepers are not to be dealt with, unless in cases of absolute necessity. The publicans have refused to supply the Emergency men and others with provisions. Mr. Keay, a baker at Killeegan, who supplied this town, has been forbidden to send his cart anywhere, on pain of having his shop smashed. Many timid Protestant traders have contributed to the Land League funds, under the threat of being boycotted. Mr. Keay received a letter on Monday from one of the 'land leaguers,' who retailed his bread, enclosing a copy of a placard forbidding the people to have any dealings with him, and stating that he was bound by its terms not to eat bread out of the same oven with Emergency men.

Mr. W. G. Burton, a resident landlord in the district, has written an indignant reply to an attack made upon him by Mr. Kelly, a publican, who was a delegate to the late convention. It would be shown that he offered an abatement of 25 per cent. to his tenants, which would have brought the rent down to Griffith's valuation, but under the advice of the local branch they refused to accept his terms and yet he is held up to public odium as a harsh landlord.

About 400 men assembled yesterday at Milltown Malbay, county Clare, and in a few hours saved the crops of Mr. James Clancy, who was recently struck by the police in a riotous assembly.

Lieutenant-Colonel John O'Callaghan has been engaged for the last four days in cutting down the corn on the farm of Hyres, an evicted tenant, while by his side Mrs. O'Callaghan was to be seen binding the sheaves.

At Quinville Abbey Colonel Newport Singleton and his wife have to perform similar work in his own demesne, as no labourer would be allowed to work for him, though it is a matter of complaint every day that the poor labourers are unemployed and neglected. The reason he has been boycotted is that he sold out a tenant who refused to pay, though well able to do so, unless he got the reduction.

A correspondent of the Daily Express states that the digging of graves appears to be regarded as the most effective means of intimidation in Ulster. A grave was found open a few mornings ago on a farm, lately in the occupation of a widow, named Taaffe, together with a notice that it was intended for 'Tom Green, meaning the agent of Captain Blackburn, the landlord. The tenant's interest was sold by the sheriff at the suit of his own son, and was bought by the agent, with the consent of the landlord, in order to protect him. She was allowed to sell the one adjoining of about 20 acres, but a false impression got abroad that she was selling it for the agent, and not for herself.

A party of 12 labourers in the employment of the Orange Emergency Committee arrived in Dundee yesterday from Monaghan, and proceeded under a strong escort of police to reap the crops on the farm of an evicted tenant of the Right Hon. J. T. Ball, late Lord Chancellor. Accounts represent the Kings County to be in a very lawless state. During the week four daring cases of incendiarism have occurred, one of them in the centre of Paterson, within 200 yards of the police barracks. The house was occupied by an inoffensive labourer, living on the outskirts of the town. A soldier who was passing saw the cottage on fire and gave the alarm, and the inmates were got out. It was then found that the thatch had been fired in two places. In the neighbourhood of Ferbane the burning of haystacks has been of frequent occurrence. Mr. Daniel O'Sullivan, a tenant of Sir John Gilbert King, has had a rick containing four tons consumed at Ballydaly. No reason can be assigned for the outrage except that L'Estrange grazes a large part of his land; but he has hitherto been popular. A poor widow who has an adjoining holding had an out-house containing a quantity of straw burnt on the following night. No reason can be given for the ill-fated towards her. Mr. Lawrence Kennedy, a respectable trader and farmer in Ferbane, had three crops of hay burnt on the same night, and on the next night a farmer named Spill had a quantity destroyed in the same way. His offence was that he took some land which had been lately given up to the landlord, on the death of the former tenant. Boyotting is extensively practised, but in some cases it is likely to recoil upon the persons who incite it. A sheriff's officer named Feehan having been put under the ban of the Land League, several shopkeepers refused to supply him. Among them was a licensed publican, whom Feehan served with notice of opposition to his licence. The publican, however, who is an Englishman, was stoned while going on his rounds a night or two ago, because he took the situation held by a former shopkeeper who struck for higher wages. Stones have also been thrown by the mob at the police when attempting to detect some illicit drinking. A determined effort is being made to boycott respectable Protestant shopkeepers in Inniskerry, county Wicklow, and the practice has already crept into the county of Dublin.

THE LATE PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

The following telegram from Mr. Blaine was received yesterday morning by Earl Granville—
"Washington, Sept. 23 1881.
"With a full heart the grief-stricken family of the late President received your touching tribute of sorrow at their irreparable loss. In their name and that of the American nation I thank you, and through you the generous people of the British Empire, for tender and unflinching manifestations of sympathy."

Washington, Sept. 23d.
Yesterday afternoon there were signs that decomposition was commencing, and it being understood that, in such an event, it was Mrs. Garfield's wish that the late President's features should be free from the public gaze, the lid of the casket containing the remains was closed by order of Mr. Blaine about half past six.

The funeral service at Cleveland will be solemnized by the late President's chaplain. Religious services will be held in the Rotunda to-day, when the Philharmonic Society of Washington will render a number of musical selections.

The same train which brought the deceased President from Long Branch will convey the remains to Cleveland. The procession from the Capitol to the railway station will be very imposing. All the members of the diplomatic body, the late President's entire Cabinet, and other high officers of State, and prominent civic, military, and naval services will follow the remains. Minute guns will be fired from the warship, at the Navy-yard and other localities, and the church bells, as well as those on the fire stations and schools, will be tolled as the procession moves on.

Besides the family of the deceased and the Cabinet, the remains will be accompanied to Cleveland by General Grant, ex-President Hayes, Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, and the Justices of the Supreme Court. A special train, containing a large number of Senators and Congressmen, with the invited guests, will follow the funeral train.

The Sultan of Turkey has sent a message of condolence to Mrs. Garfield through Aristarchi Bey, the Turkish Representative in Washington.

Mr. Blaine has instructed Mr. Lowell, the U. S. States Minister in London, to forward to the London papers a communication declaring that the late President's family and the American nation have been deeply touched by the sympathetic messages received from all parts of the British Empire, and deeply regret the impossibility of making special acknowledgments in each case. Mr. Blaine has sent similar messages to the American representatives in Rome and Brussels.

Meetings to express sympathy with the late President's family continue to be held throughout the country as well as in Canada. The authorities of many towns have directed that the bells be tolled during the passage of the train to Cleveland. The Catholic Archbishop of Baltimore has ordered the bells of the Catholic churches in his diocese to be tolled on the day of the funeral.

It is estimated that 80,000 persons viewed the remains to-day. When the coffin was closed the funeral offering presented on behalf of Queen Victoria was placed upon it.

President Arthur has decided not to accompany the late President's body to Cleveland, but to remain at Washington for the present.

I have been using your 'Golden Fleece Dip' for the cure of scab in sheep during the whole year and it has not seen its equal in this respect. It is an efficient and rapid cure, it not only destroys the scab in a very short time, but also produces a new growth of wool.

I have advised writing you sooner in order that I might be the better able to judge of the effects of the medicine and to compare it with the remedies used by other sheepfarmers, none of whose results are at all so free from scab as mine although they have been working for more than thirty years. I have not seen any scab since I have used your dip, and as regards its cost, it is the most profitable of any I have ever used or know of.

You are at liberty to use this as you may see fit and return.
Dear Sir,
Yours truly,
WILLIAM TOMPKINS.

To Irish Catholics
The sons of Irishmen in this Plate can now receive, within a few leagues of their homes, on the banks of the River Liffey, and under the very shadow of the Venerable Sanctuary of Our Lady of Loughlin, an education in every way adapted to the peculiar circumstances of the Irish in this country.
